Shore nursing homes run the gamut

Area has some of the best, worst

NEPTUNE — For-profit nursing homes are more likely to provide worse care than their not-for-profit rivals, according to a Gannett analysis of the federal government's first ranking of nearly 16,000 nursing homes.

The new Zagat-like rating system, released today by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, assigns nursing homes one to five stars for their quality, staffing and health inspections, plus an overall score.

The scores reflect tens of thousands of inspection records, complaint investigations and quality measures, such as how many nursing staff hours were provided each day to patients, how many patients developed bedsores and how many were placed in restraints. Much of the survey data were collected in 2008, and the news is not good for some facilities in Monmouth and Ocean counties..... (more on page 3)
